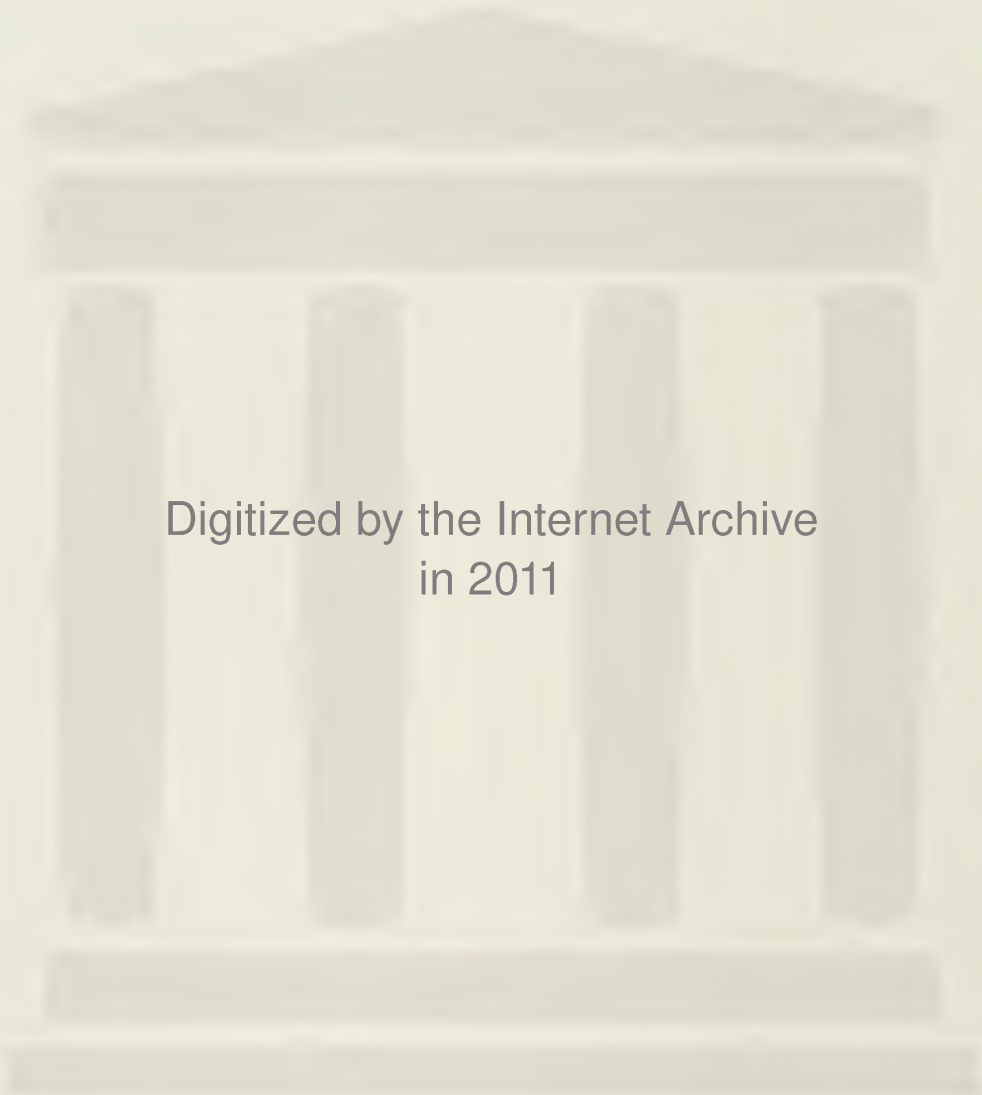
Disney FAIRIES

The Secret Fairy Garden



Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2011

http://www.archive.org/details/secretfairygarde00berg

The Secret Fairy Garden

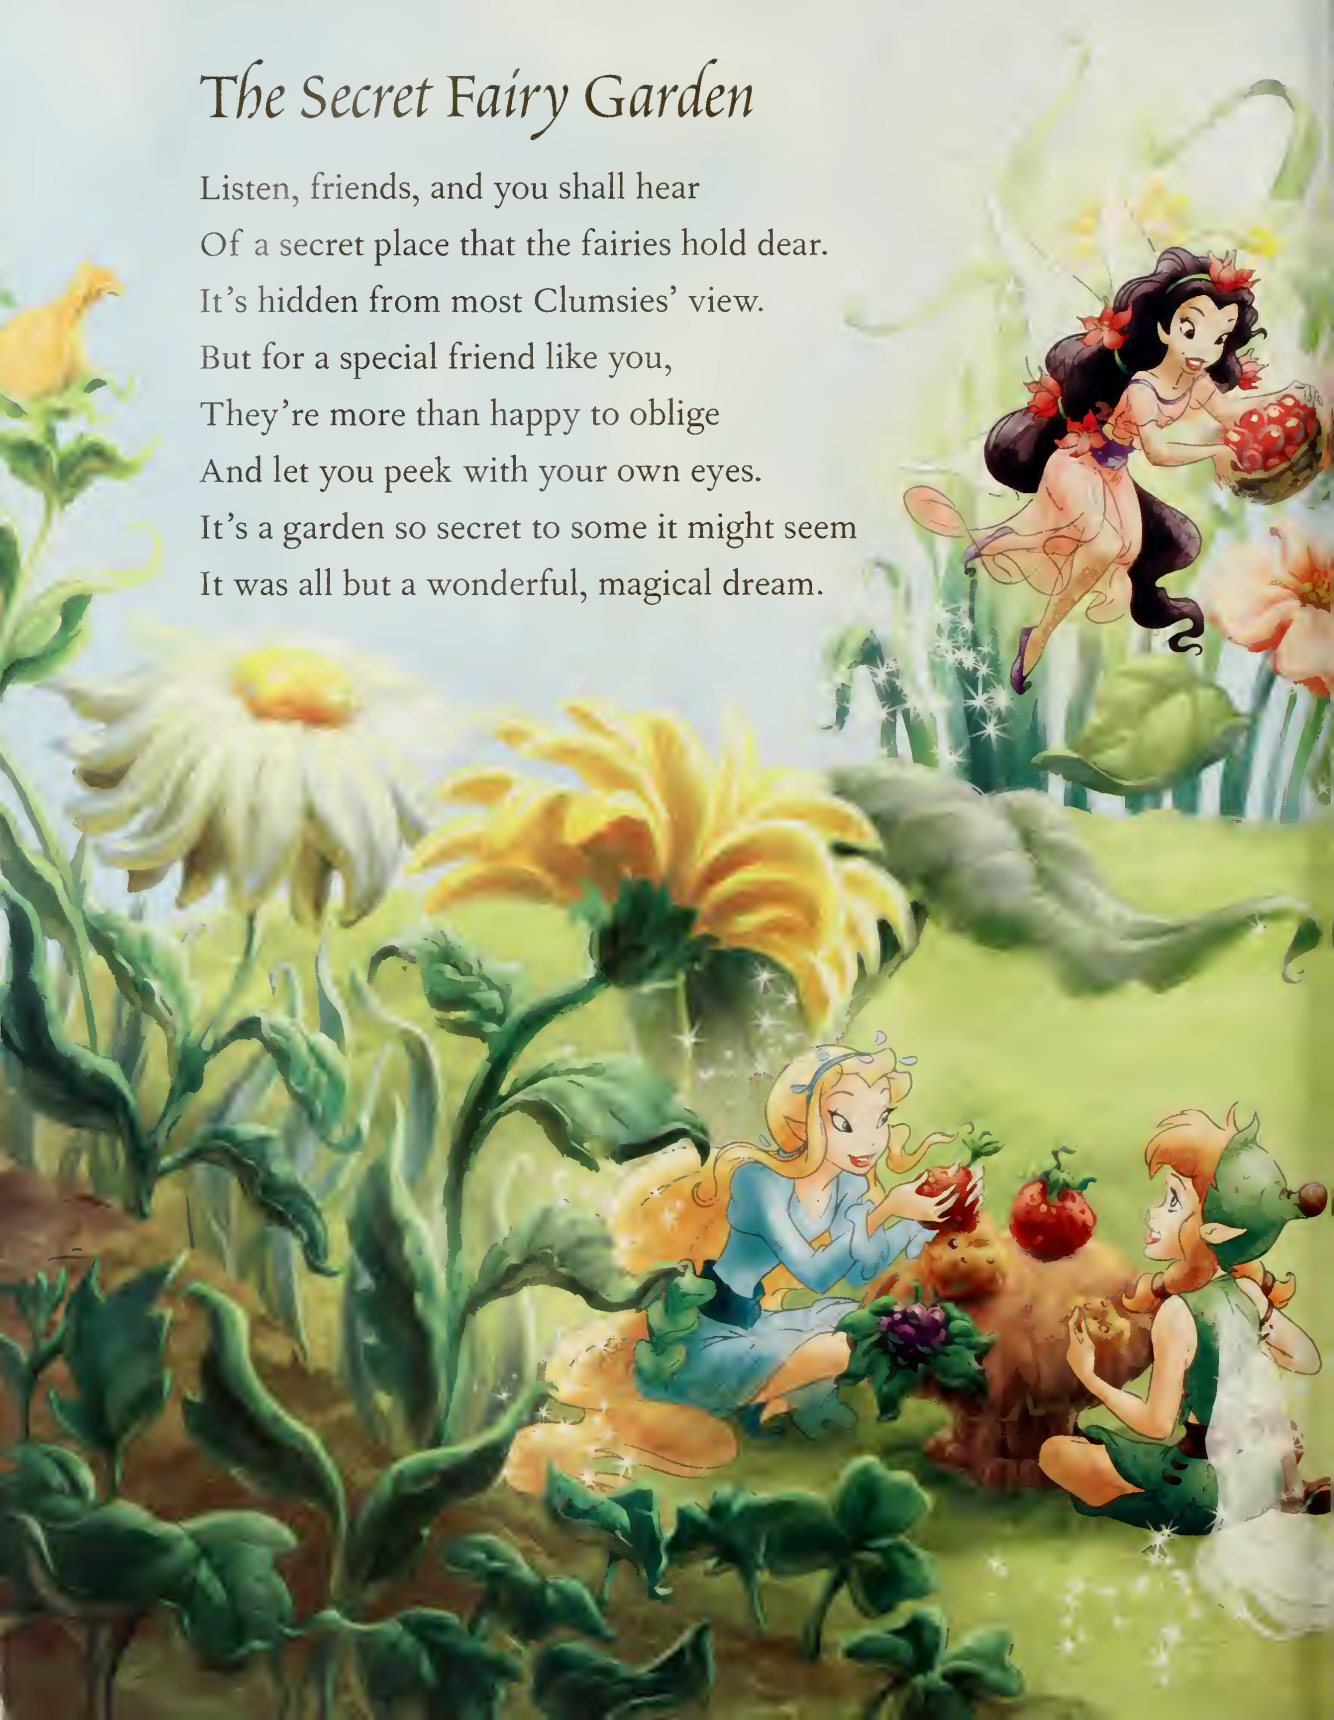
Poems by Lara Bergen

Illustrated by the Disney Storybook Artists

New York

The Secret Fairy Garden

Listen, friends, and you shall hear
Of a secret place that the fairies hold dear.
It's hidden from most Clumsies' view.
But for a special friend like you,
They're more than happy to oblige
And let you peek with your own eyes.
It's a garden so secret to some it might seem
It was all but a wonderful, magical dream.

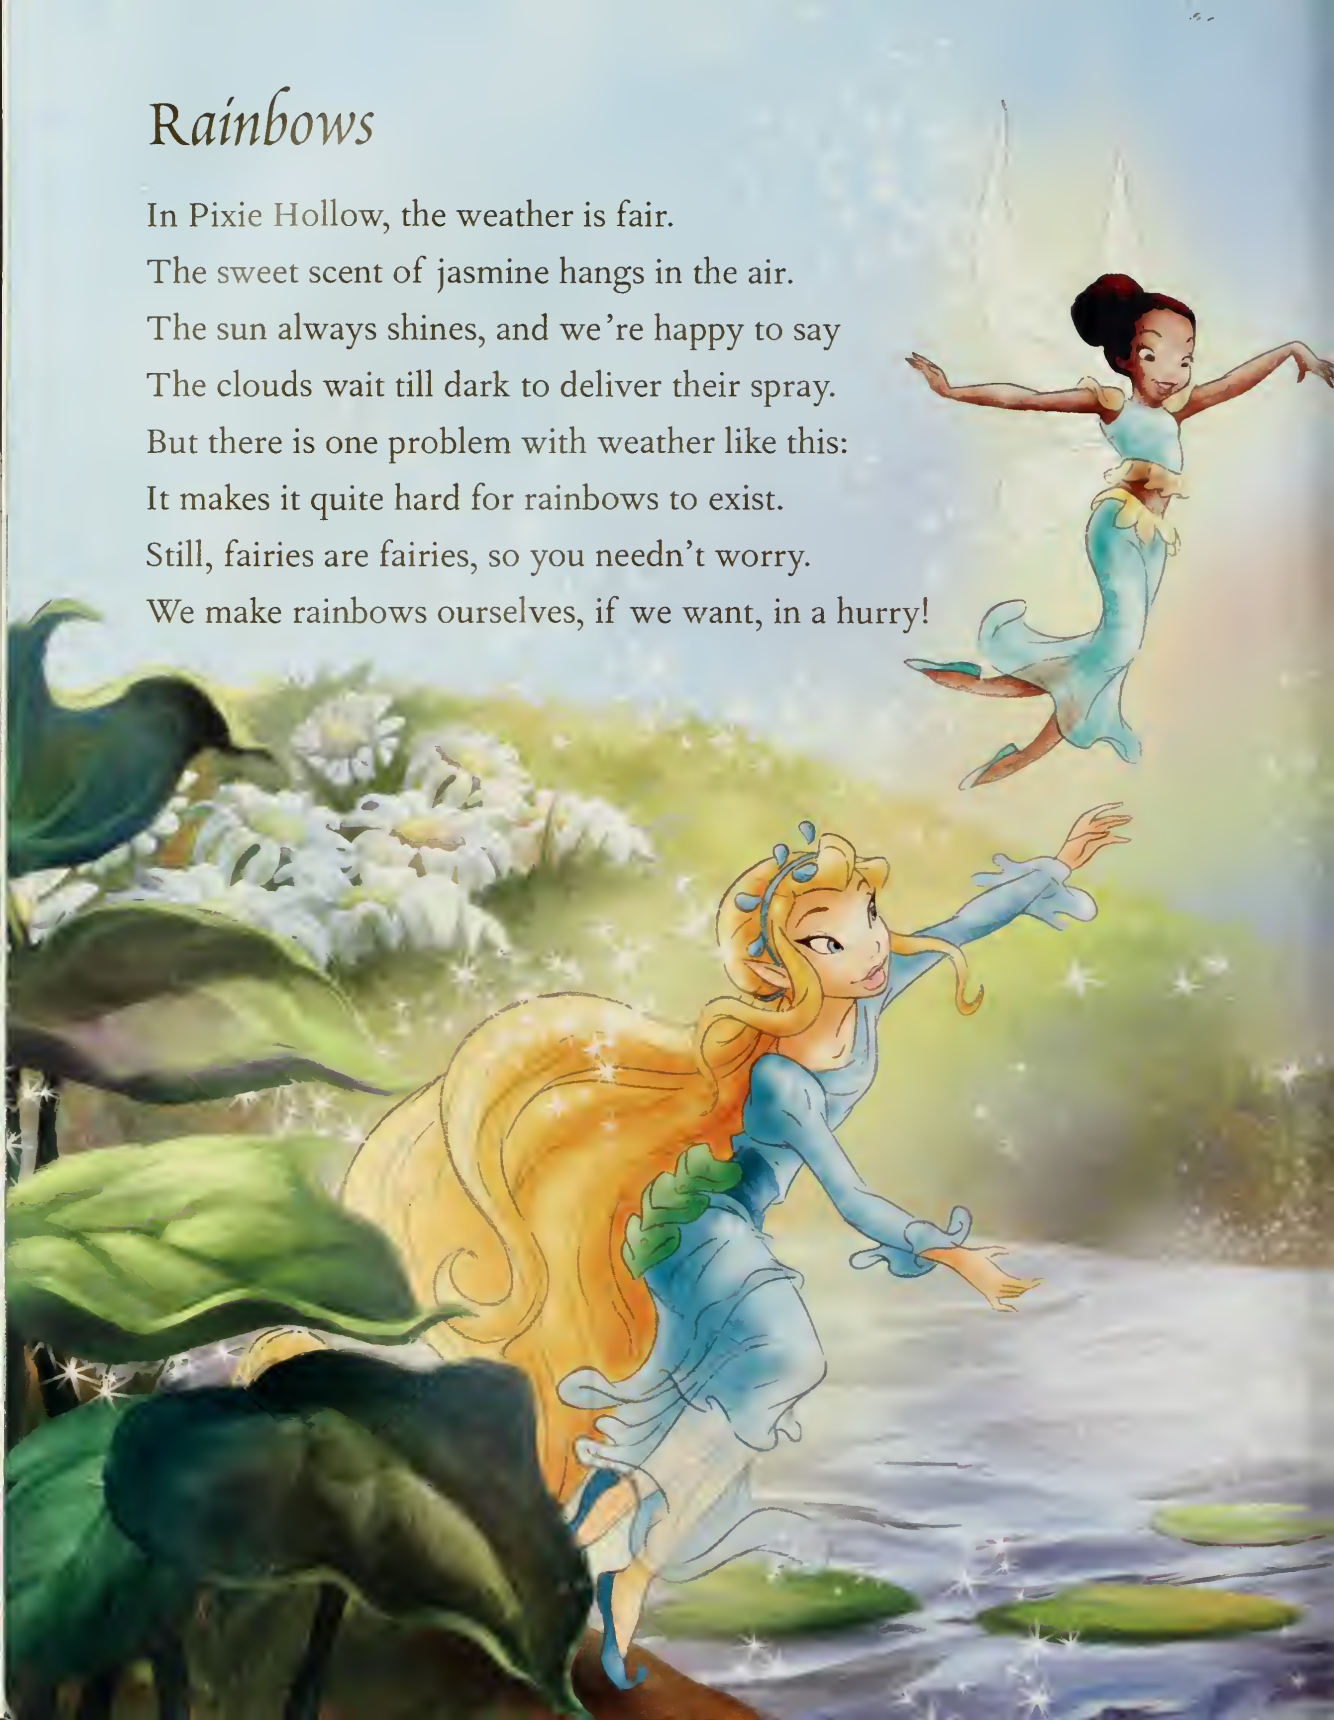


Fairy Hide-and-Seek

Tinker Bell, Tinker Bell, where can you be?
I've looked in the courtyard and searched the Home Tree.
The only place left now to try is the flowers—
But there are so many, I could look for hours!
I had no idea when I started this game
That your deft hiding skills would so put me to shame.

Rainbows

In Pixie Hollow, the weather is fair.
The sweet scent of jasmine hangs in the air.
The sun always shines, and we're happy to say
The clouds wait till dark to deliver their spray.
But there is one problem with weather like this:
It makes it quite hard for rainbows to exist.
Still, fairies are fairies, so you needn't worry.
We make rainbows ourselves, if we want, in a hurry!



Flower Song

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Marigolds are yellow—
And buttercups, too.
Lilacs are purple,
Lilies are pink,
But they're best put together.
(Or so we all think.)

The Water Fairies

Down by the stream, where the water lilies grow,
There's a cool, crystal pool where the water fairies go.
Some like to paddle in their dainty leaf canoes.
Some even skate about on fairy-dusted shoes.
Others use their talent to make fountains in the air;
For a water fairy's happy when there's water everywhere.

Lily's Garden

Lily, Lily, this may sound silly,
But how does your garden grow?
"Oh, listen, do, and I'll tell you
Everything you wish to know.
As I'm sure you must think, it needs water to drink,
And sunshine is an absolute must.
But I should also say that three times a day
I sprinkle it with fairy dust."

Evening Song

Farewell, sun, your day is done.
Another morning filled with fun,
Another happy afternoon,
All come and gone away too soon.
But though it's hard to see the day pass,
Its memories will always last.
So farewell sun, your day is done.
A new night, though, has just begun!

The Fairy Dance

It happens on that special night
When the moon is full and big and bright.
Queen Clarion dons a magic crown,
The fairies put on their finest gowns.
Then they all gather in a ring
And dance and twirl and start to sing.
To celebrate another month
Of friendship, laughter, joy, and love.

Copyright © 2008 by Disney Enterprises, Inc.
All rights reserved. Published by Disney Press,
an imprint of Disney Book Group. For information
address Disney Press, 114 Fifth Avenue,
New York, New York 10011-5690.

Format designed by Reader's Digest Children's Books,
Pleasantville, New York

Printed in China
10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Conforms to ASTM F963-07 and EN 71

VISIT WWW.DISNEYFAIRIES.COM

$0.99
Books-Childrens
4 43833 00000 5
Books-Yellow -.6.201-100604

ISBN-13: 978-142310950-1
ISBN-10: 142310950-3
51499
9 781423 109501